

COUNTDOWN TO GDPR

We'll be with you all the way

You will have probably heard a lot by now about the EU General Data Protection Regulation which requires compliance by 25 May 2018. You might have even seen the odd consultant frowning and telling you that there is lots of work to do which you will never be able to manage by yourself. That's not our approach at #teamDQ

Our approach is based on making sure that we are knowledgeable about the implications of the GDPR for your business so that we can provide assistance if you need it. Below are DQ's GDPR team, all of whom are progressing through the Practitioner Certificate in Data Protection from the leading training provider, PDP.

Helping you get ready

Sinead O'Connor is our Head of Regulatory & Compliance Services. Sinead has already advised clients on the implications of GDPR for data retention and on the general impact on data protection policies. She has also delivered training to Boards of Directors on the implications of GDPR.

Sinead@dq.im

Leanne McKeown is a director within the firm. As Head of Employment, she is regularly required to provide practical advice to Island businesses as to their obligations arising under the Data Protection Act 2002; particularly in relation to subject access requests.

Leanne@dq.im

Hazel Dawson is a senior associate in our Corporate and Commercial team. Hazel has experience of advising clients on the provisions and requirements of the Data Protection Act 2002, particularly in relation to corporate matters and contractual obligations with 3rd party service providers.

Hazel.Dawson@dq.im

Adam Killip is an associate advocate in our Corporate & Commercial and Regulatory & Compliance Departments.

Adam has experience advising clients on the provisions of the Data Protection Act 2002, including subject access requests and data retention periods and policies.

Adam@dq.im

01624 626999

dq.im/our-services/regulatory-compliance-services

